Strong natural inclination for research and analytical mindset, strengthened through ongoing education and professional training. Recent areas of interest include:

- Designing visualisations and dashboards using Excel, Tableau, Python, and R

- Developing a trading model around earning announcement dates

- Performing data analysis and statistical modelling to extract insights and support decision-making

WORK EXPERIENCE

Market and Financial Analyst March 2013 - present (Self-employed)

I have conducted independent research and analysis on cryptocurrencies and equity markets, including successful ventures such as Bitcoin (BTC), and Palantir Technologies (PLTR) and unsuccessful ventures. As a personal investor I developed a strategic approach and gained expertise in portfolio management, market evaluation, and financial decision-making focusing on strategic rationale over short-term outcomes.

- Analysed behavioural finance aspects of investor decision-making, linking theory with practical trading outcomes

- Gained hands-on experience in risk management, portfolio diversification, and financial forecasting

- Applied geopolitical forecasting to assess global events and their financial implications on market and investment strategies

Account Manager Jun 2012 - Jun 2015 and Sept 2019 - Sept 2023 (Edro 21 s.r.l.)

I initially joined as an apprentice but quickly progressed to Junior Account Manager and finally Account Manager. Edro 21 is a medium-sized company that works with large retail chains and other medium-seized companies in the Italian region of Tuscany. At Edro 21 I learned to deal with company managers and I developed my negotiation skills.

- Managed client relationships and developed marketing campaigns using SWOT analysis to align strategies with client goals

- Coordinated creative teams and optimised campaign outcomes

- Gained strong exposure to project management, data-driven marketing insights, and business reporting

Intercultural Mediator Sept 2015 - Apr 2019 (Arkè ONLUS)

While completing my BA thesis in Communication on Intercultural migration I decided to work on supporting migrants who arrived in Italy in challenging situations. I learned a lot regarding the importance of maintaining a long-term vision in the context of geopolitical and historical factors and this has continued to inform my professional approach today.

- Developed interpersonal skills, organisational behaviour, and problem-solving attitude

- Developed strong skills in intercultural communication, conflict resolution, and social support

- Coordinated team building and public relations

Co-founder and Project Manager 2014 - 2016 (La Nottola Cultural Association)

Designed and developed an ambitious project to restore an abandoned structure. Successfully secured € 115K in funding to update the structure as a cultural events centre.

- Coordinated events, budgets, and team activities

- Built partnerships linking institutions and stakeholders
